

SENATOR DOLPH.

THE OREGON STATESMAN PRAISES CLEVELAND.

THINKS HE'S RIGHT ON SILVER.

When the Senate met there were a few Republicans but not a Democrat present, and no quorum—Members of the House Express themselves on the Election Repeal Bill.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—When the fall of the president's grave opened the senate yesterday there were only a few Republicans and not a Democrat present. The lack of a quorum was called to the attention of the chair and after a delay of fifteen minutes a quorum was obtained and the regular business of the day was begun.

The bill to repeal the Sherman law was then laid before the senate and Mr. White of California, said he had examined carefully the Bankers' Magazine of August, 1873, and found the statements made by Mr. Sherman yesterday concerning a certain article in that magazine to be correct and that his quotation from the publication was erroneous. He also read from the Congressional Record to show that the statement as he had given it was made as early as 1878.

Mr. Dolph then continued his speech begun Tuesday in support of the repeal bill. He quoted from the message of President Cleveland of 1885, urging the discontinuance of the purchase and coinage of silver under the Bland-Alison act and characterized this as a stronger argument against the use of silver than he was able to offer. He said he read it for the purpose of showing that Democrats who advocated the retention of the Sherman act were in accord with their party leaders. He declared that the success of the Democratic party with such a candidate and such a platform was abundant evidence of the fact that American people did not desire to continue the coinage of silver under the existing conditions.

Mr. Teller interrupted Mr. Dolph to ask him what chance he thought there was of securing any recognition of silver under the administration of a president who holds the views expressed by Mr. Cleveland.

To this Mr. Dolph replied that he did not expect that there would be any legislation concerning silver under the present administration while the conditions remained as at present. When the Democratic party was in the minority it could afford to favor free coinage, but now that it had a majority it had necessarily become conservative on the subject.

Mr. Teller asked Mr. Dolph if he had any reason to suppose that the president had taken any steps looking to secure the co-operation of other actions in the interest of silver. Mr. Dolph replied that he was not acquainted with the plans of the administration but had no ground to suppose that the president was not, as he formerly, friendly to the project of an international agreement. He could not doubt Mr. Cleveland's good faith when he stated that he desired such an agreement.

Mr. Palmer took the same view, and while disclaiming any authority to represent the president, he had no doubt the president regarded it as essential that the United States should determine its own policy with reference to silver by not having other nations to confer upon the matter.

The Brussels monetary conference was brought into the discussion and Mr. Allison, Republican of Iowa, who was one of the delegates to the conference, said that the majority of the delegates favored the utilization of gold and silver, they were not ready to adopt the coinage of silver in their own countries. Mr. Power, Republican of Montana, then addressed the senate in opposition to the bill.

Mr. Palmer, Democrat of Illinois then addressed the senate. He had been in session eight weeks, he said, and it had become a very interesting question whether the senate would at any time dispose of the question now before it. A contest of physical endurance made no allowance for age or helplessness. In such a contest, when his ancient friend from Vermont (Mr. Morrill) sitting himself, almost as ancient, laughed and enjoyed the juvenile senator from Nevada (Mr. Stewart) laughing Mr. Palmer hoped they would be allowed to sing hallelujahs in their seats and starve in their stomachs. (Laughter.) He could see no end to the discussion and knew no method by which it could be terminated. "The senate ought to act and it ought to vote," said Mr. Palmer, and then he proceeded with an argument in favor of repeal.

POLITICS IN THE HOUSE.

Various Members Express themselves in Regard to the Election Law.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Before debate on the election bill was resumed yesterday Mr. Bailey from the committee on judiciary reported favorably Mr. Hawley's bill providing for the disposition of property in the hands of the receiver of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, valued at $350,000, and authorizing its application to charitable purposes of said church.

Mr. Northway, who represents the old field district in Ohio, opened the debate on the opposition to the election bill repeal. He inveighed against the doctrine of "states rights" which he said stood like a specter behind the bill. He maintained that whenever congress and the states had equal power to act it was the duty of congress to speak and its voice should be paramount.

Mr. Kyle of Mississippi followed in advocacy of the bill.

Rowers of California followed in opposition and Dr. Forrest of Connecticut in its favor.

Crazy over religion, a man at Lafayette Ind., built an altar and sacrificed two hogs upon it.

A BOLD TRAIN WRECKER.

Desperate Attempt to Wreck "Nellie By" on the Santa Fe.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 4.—John M. Quigley, alias Reilly, a switchman who has until recently worked for the Denver and Rio Grande railroad at Pueblo, made two desperate attempts last evening to wreck the "Nellie By" Chicago flyer on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road. Had he succeeded great loss of life would doubtless have occurred, as there were seventy-five passengers on the train. Both attempts were made near the Union depot, where Quigley threw a switch before the incoming train, but an employee of the yards was within a few feet of him and replaced the switch a second or so before the train rolled by. Quigley escaped, and two officers were sent after him.

The "Nellie By" had unloaded its human freight and was on its way to the round house when Quigley suddenly appeared near the place of the first attempted wreck, and raised a heavy iron bar for the purpose of throwing it under the wheels of the train. The officers, who were on the lookout for him, caught him by the arms and the iron bar fell to the ground. Quigley, the train again escaping by a mere scratch. He was arrested and charged with attempted murder. Quigley says that he wanted to get even with the road because they had blacklisted him.

Station Agent Held Up.

DENVER, Oct. 4.—The depot at Divide station, the railway terminus of the Cripple Creek stage line on the Colorado Midland railroad, was robbed last evening at 9 o'clock by two masked men, who escaped with $450 belonging to the Wells-Fargo express company. They entered through the ticket window while J. Kibby, the depot agent, and E. Vaughn sat talking in the back room, where the telegraph desk was placed. They picked up Kibby's rifle and one man entered the agent's office and with this weapon while the other plundered the money drawer.

Most conspicuous among many guests of the gracious sovereign, of the Veiled Prophet, were the sixty foreign world's fair commissioners.

Union Pacific Strike Probable.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 4.—The federation board of employees and General Manager Dickinson, of the Union Pacific, met in conference last evening. This conference lasted two and one-half minutes exactly. The committee of the federation told Mr. Dickinson that no cut would be accepted and withdrew, he having nothing to say. Some decisive action is looked for at once. It may be that a general strike of the federated employees will be ordered if the wages are not restored.

At the Kansas State Fair.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 4.—The second day of the Kansas state fair showed an improved attendance, but the crowd is not up to the usual average of the association. There is a fine display of stock and the horticultural and agricultural products are attractive features.

TERRIBLE HAVOC.

OVER TWO HUNDRED LIVES LOST IN THE STORM.

AWFUL FURY OF THE ELEMENTS.

Louisiana Seems to Be the Worst Sufferer.—Storm Swept From New Orleans to the Gulf—It Is Believed That Later Reports Will Greatly Add to the Death List.—Damage at Mobile.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 4.—The great storm of Monday has passed, and although the waves are still down, bits of intelligence continue to come in from various parts which impart the information that the loss of life, to say nothing of the destruction of property, is tremendous. From Bayou Cook, the great oyster field which leads to the Gulf, it is reported that the settlements of the fishermen have been completely demolished, and that the loss of life has reached the appalling figure of 300.

Grand Isle, a summer resort lying in the Gulf directly in the path of the storm, is said to have been utterly destroyed, and it is known that the loss of life is large.

In the parish of Plaquemine the villages of Bismia and Shell Beach were wiped out, and at least four lives lost in each place. On the sides of the river the sugar, rice and orange crops suffered a great deal of damage, and on the west side the loss of life is reported to have been very great. It will be reported favorably in the house to reduce the duty 5 per cent on all goods now at the world's fair which still be sold here or removed for consumption.

The total amount of public lands disposed of during the fiscal year just ended was nearly 12,000,000 acres, of which almost 1,000,000 were sold for cash.

The McCarthy gang is threatening citizens of Delta, Col., with vengeance on account of their efforts to locate responsibility for the recent bank robbery there.

Two persons, three of them children, were killed and a large number hurt, and that no results of any description have arrived from the remote sections, the information is necessarily meager. Yesterday a lone and ragged fisherman, who had been a member of the fishing colony at Bayou Cook, where all the oysters being that name was fished, and which is located about seven miles back of the Barataria settlement, reported to the keeper of the locks of the canal that of the 300 people who had been in the colony, but thirty had succeeded in escaping the fury of the elements.

The loss of life, as far as a diligent search could ascertain, foots up as follows: Between Point-a-la-Pache and Bayou, from Mrs. Leconte La France and two babies and Charlotte Brinkley, a colored woman at Grand Prairie, four, Wiley Anderson, the son of a man named Perot, the daughter of a man named Henry J. Johnson and an unknown colored man.

At the old quarantine station two, the children of a Mr. Hingle; at the jetty one, James Carey, Tot d, eleven. The destruction of the orange crop is almost complete. The new fruit is badly injured. The sugar cane was blown down but as it is ripe, it will be cut and ground at once. The negro church at Free town was blown down, and several halls were unroofed or badly injured at Algiers.

The damage by the storm in New Orleans will amount to $75,000.

Mobile a Wreck.

NASVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 4.—A Mobile, Ala., special says: "The storm which visited this city Monday left a perfect week. At this time the damage can only be conjectured, but it is safe to estimate it at nearly $1,000,000. So far several deaths are reported. In the gardeners' district, across the river, dwell twenty-three families, whose homes can be seen from any eminence in this city. Only one of these homes can be seen standing, and as no news has yet been received, it is considered that many lives have been lost."

James Ensey Must Answer.

PITTSBURG, Kan., Oct. 4.—The three negroes who were implicated in the Chicago shooting last Sunday were brought down from Girard yesterday and had a preliminary examination before Judge J. C. Boyd. Swan and Adams were discharged and James Dorsey, charged with doing the shooting, waived examination, and was bound over to appear at the November term of the court in the sum of $15,000. Thus ends a season that might have ended in a tragedy.

CHOCTAW COUNCIL.

Governor's Address to Be Submitted—May Recommend General Amnesty.

TUSKALOOSA, Ind. Ter., Oct. 4.—The Choctaw council met yesterday, elected Cyrus Livingston sergeant-at-arms and adjourned until to day. The governor is busily engaged writing his message. Attempts to learn what he will recommend have failed. However, it was learned from one of his political friends, who is very close to him, that he would advise the council to pass a general amnesty bill for the benefit of the twenty odd prisoners who have been in the Wilburton jail so long for killing the four Choctaws last year. It is believed that such a recommendation would meet universal approval, as all seem to be anxious to bury all past differences. They know that this government is under a great strain, and the least we could do would be to proclaiming martial law.

Dick Leake, the leader of his party, is doing everything he can to restore peace among his people.

Treasurer Green McCurtain is expected here to-morrow. Everybody is anxiously awaiting to see his report on the condition of the treasury. It is claimed by some that it is in a depleted condition.

CABINET OFFICERS.

THEIR RECOMMENDATIONS FOR OFFICE WILL GO.

CLEVELAND TIRED OF THE JOB.

He Will No Longer Personally Pass Up on the Merits of Applicants—Sensations and Representatives Now Direct Their Energies Toward the Heads of Departments for Indorsements.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—President Cleveland has adopted the policy of accepting the recommendations of cabinet officers for appointments coming under their departments, instead of undertaking to pass personally on the merits of applicants in each individual case. Senators and representatives appealing to the president, now direct their energies toward securing favorable indorsements by the heads of departments, on appointments coming under them, and the recommendations of the cabinet officers are followed by the president, unless he has other sources of information that leads him to believe the appointment should not be made.

Taylor's Nomination Hung Up.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—C. H. J. Taylor's nomination for minister to Bolivia is hung up tight in the committee on foreign relations. Senator Martin said that he seriously doubted whether Taylor could be confirmed. "It is purely a diplomatic question," he said, "and many of the senators question the policy of the appointment." Taylor takes a rather pessimistic view of the situation. He says that the president will take care of him, and if the senate does not confirm him for this place his name will be sent in for another equally as good.

Fighting Glick's Confirmation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The personal fight against ex-Governor Glick of Atchison, who was recently nominated for pension agent at Topeka, has had its effect on the senate pension committee, to which it was referred. Thurston of Leavenworth, who became of late personal animosity toward Glick, filed the charges against him, was called before the committee yesterday, and so was J. B. Crouch. Glick's confirmation can not now be brought about before Saturday, and it is probable that it will not be made at that time.

Mr. Morgan's Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—A novel amendment to the bill repealing the purchase clause of the silver act of 1890 was submitted in the senate yesterday by Senator Morgan of Alabama. It proposes the re-enactment of the free coinage act of 1873 and the remission of twenty per cent of tariff duties to the countries which receive American standard dollars (of the present weight and fineness), at par as legal tender money.

Crouch for Mar-Is.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—There is a new Richmond in the Kansas marshaling ship. T. R. Wilson of Herington, who came here to look over the situation, has brought J. B. Crouch, the stalwart representative from Hutchinson, to the front, and has called on the president in his behalf.

Rich Morris Is Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The senate in executive session yesterday confirmed the appointment of Richard B. Morris of Kansas to be collector of internal revenue for that state.

Nearly Reached the North Pole.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—The steamer Jennie, the tender of the Arctic whaling fleet, which has arrived from Herschel islands, brings news that Captain Porter of the steam whaler Newport, reached eighty-four degrees north latitude, the most northerly point ever reached by man. The Newport wintered at Herschel islands and this summer, aided by an open sea, particularly free from ice, worked her way north in pursuit of whales to eighty-four degrees, within six degrees of the north pole. It is believed that had the Newport been supplied with dogs and sledges the north pole could easily have been reached by traveling over the ice.

Object to Jarvis and Conklin.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 4.—It was reported in financial circles today that an attempt would soon be made to have the appointment of Samuel M. Jarvis and Roland R. Conklin as receivers of the Jarvis-Conklin Mortgage Trust company set aside. The dissatisfaction does not exist in Kansas City, but in the East among holders of securities of the embarrassed corporation. Some of these holders prefer that the receivers be men who are not associated with the company.

Uncle Sam and Turkey Disagree.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Daily News correspondent at Constantinople says he learns that the porte has decided to close the Protestant college at Anatolia, and has informed the United States minister that the sultan does not desire the return of Dr. Herrielle. The government at Washington, the report says, informed the porte that American missionaries must be in no way prevented from returning to Asia Minor from Europe.

Kansas' Oldest Woman Dead.

ATCHISON, Kan., Oct. 4.—Eliza Porter, better known as "Aunt Eliza," who was probably the oldest woman in Kansas, died last week at her home south of here. She was born on August 16, 1792, in Logan county, Ky.

A WALK OVER COMPETITION.

Is the route we take in the shoe trade, and we not only enjoy it ourselves, but make it very interesting to our customers. Our stock of footwear is as much beyond competition as a point a mile away is beyond hearing. These goods break the record for speed, because though they can't take wings, they take feet, and they're getting connected with so many pairs of feet that every day makes a big gap in the assortment. There are no gaps in the procession of buyers, though; they're marching right along to the tune of "Still there's more to follow."
